Programs Awarded Grants by the National Alliance for Accessible Golf

Updated August 17, 2022

The National Alliance for Accessible Golf Grants (funded by the USGA over the years) are awarded on a rolling basis throughout the year. Awards are given to programs which are inclusive in nature. This means participants with disabilities in the program doing the same things as participants without disabilities. Not all applications are funded, and rarely are requests funded fully. Awards range from $2,000 to $20,000, but it is important to note that grant awards are based on the budget submitted and there are no limits and no amount too small. Please look at the below documents to learn more about the types of programs that are funded and at what level.

The program is designed to provide people who are blind or visually impaired with opportunities for physical, mental, social and emotional growth and development through the game of golf. Our goals are to enable youth and adults with visual impairment to learn basic skills of golf; foster friendships with one-on-one mentors and other players; build confidence and self-reliance; and experience the benefit of physical activity. We incorporate a curriculum explaining the life lessons of golf and how they apply to participants’ everyday lives. A second-hand purpose is to...

Our program is one of this region's only inclusive program that pairs athletes with a wide range of development and physical disabilities with non-disabled players and volunteers of all abilities provide coaching, support and positive interaction at an average ratio of one volunteer coach to three participants. The program also encourages local high school golfers to participate as a method of breaking down stereotypes and fears about individuals with disabilities. All-Star Training Club is a sanctioned Special Olympic organization and the only program in our area that offers this type of integrated program that includes both adults and children with developmental disabilities.

Pomeroy Goals
- To enable individuals with disabilities to experience the health, social, and skill-building benefits of the game of golf
- To educate the non-disabled public about the contributions and value of individuals with disabilities.
- To continue our partnership with The First Tee and Harding Park.
- To engage our clients in ongoing golf instruction to increase their skills and comfort level with the game.
- To increase community engagement by holding a tournament for our clients and non-disabled members of the public to play side by side.
- To cultivate a healthy spirit of competition and for all the golfers in the year round program to build skills as they train, whether or not they end up in the tournament.

The Rehabilitation & Orthopedic Institute has an on-site golf practice area which includes 2400 square foot synthetic greens with bunker and a grass area to practice full swings for both short game and driving. However, the tee line is not fully accessible to wheelchair use and is a challenge for those with unsteady gait because the grass cannot be cut short enough and the terrain is uneven. They are adding a synthetic tee line that will allow wheelchair access. This will connect to the existing accessible pathway.

Union County’s inclusive golf programs all take place either at the Ash Brook Golf Course or the Galloping Hill Golf Course, which are public, County-run courses. Golf instructors involved with the programs work with golfers of all skill levels and ages during and outside of program hours. This environment is vital to the inclusivity of the County’s golf programs, as it allows for program participants to interact with everyday golfers and the courses’ golf pros during and outside program hours. The developmental golf programs are inclusive and invite all County residents, regardless of skill level, mental and/or physical abilities, or mobility issues to participate. The County recognizes the importance of having participants learn and play golf side by side.

Special Olympics Louisiana is seeking an important expansion of its athlete golf program to support local developmental programs and developmental training of Athletes for state and national competition.

In an effort to rule out the notion that physical/mental ability should direct your ability, the HERD uses golf and mentors to engage participants in the game of golf.

The Union County Inclusive Golf Program promotes and practices the principle that recreational activities and opportunities should be open to all residents of the county.

The Mid Atlantic Blind Golf Association uses golf to engage individuals with visual disability into the game and game. In order to expand their programming, they are building pitch and putt golf courses for the New York and Georgia Schools for the Blind.

The goal of the Smith Adaptive Golf School is to use the game of golf to provide a social inclusion opportunity for students with disabilities, and match them with students without disabilities by joining groups of “foursome golf buddy” relationships. They learn the game of golf and new skills, play and enter a team scramble event together.

The primary mission of Special Children’s Charities is to promote, foster and encourage physical and mental health and improvement for children and adults with intellectual disabilities. In cooperation with the Chicago Park District, Chicago Public Schools and Special Olympics Illinois, the organization is committed to providing year-round sports training and recreation/social programming.

On Course Foundation supports on-going recovery, social inclusion and development of wounded, injured and sick Service Members and Veterans through golf. The mission is to build confidence and self-belief in our Members through golf skills and employment events, and set participants on path to meaningful employment in the golf industry.

CP Rochester supports individuals of all ages and abilities to determine their own pathway in life. One of the programs we offer is SportsNet, a comprehensive, community based, inclusive sports and recreation program. Funding is for half of an adaptive golf car.

See 2014 for information. Note that this program has moved to Augusta, GA. Grant is for half of the purchase of a ParaGolfer and the balance for program costs.

The Above Par Excellence program mission is to positively influence the lives of youth by providing educational programs that encourage fitness, builds character, and supports academics. Daily academic & life skills including math, science, reading and character development are included as well as daily/weekly golf skills including hitting balls, playing 3-9 holes, in classroom, golf courses, fitness centers. Life skills outside of golf include visiting cultural facilities.

The mission of The First Tee is to impact the lives of young people by providing educational programs that build character, instill life-enhancing values and promote healthy choices through the game of golf. The accessible golf program introduces young people in an inclusive program involving youth with and without disabilities.

The Warriors in Motion Novice Golf Program provides outdoor physical activity through the game of golf, wellness education, and mentorship/leadership opportunities for injured and ill United States servicemen and women. Through this program, they will embrace a healthy lifestyle by learning a lifelong sport that can be played with their able-bodied peers.

The Military Veterans golf program provides disabled and able bodied veterans with the opportunity to grow their golf skills together, while encouraging one another.

Pomeroy Recreation & Rehabilitation Center provides vocational and educational opportunities for people with disabilities through programs and services that encourage self-expression, promote personal achievement and lead to greater independence. The Pomeroy Putt program enables individuals with disabilities to experience the health, social and skill building benefits of golf and educates the non-disabled public about the contributions and value of individuals with disabilities. The program introduces the clients to golf through instruction and access. The program also works in conjunction with The First Tee, Special Olympics and other organizations.

The MIGA program focuses on eliminating the barriers of entry to the game of golf for underserved youth with disabilities by providing proper education, instruction and opportunity while including those without disabilities. To achieve measures of renewed self-esteem, self-confidence, social and cognitive development, physical rehabilitation and other character building opportunities for children and young adults with special needs while enjoying the game of golf side by side via a program free of charge and not provided exclusively elsewhere.

Provide special needs participants the same experience as all other participants, and to provide opportunities for ALL participants to play side by side in a unified manner while building confidence.

This program funding is to support the FGA GET OUT AND PLAY program. Each session involves a warm-up/instructional session followed by on-course play of three to nine holes, depending on each participant’s abilities. FGA coaches are available to assist players with shot-making techniques, course and game rules, and proper golf etiquette, and to assist golfers with their adaptive equipment if needed. These introductions to on-course play are a major element of FGA’s mission of providing joy AND freedom to adaptive golfers.

Through the game of golf, individuals with disabilities become actively engaged in the social fabric of a community and derive health benefits that improve quality of life. A major part of this process is educating the disabled individual of the therapeutic and rehabilitative possibilities of golf, and persuading the able-bodied golfer of the social, recreational and competitive opportunities that such a program engenders. Too many potential golfers are languishing and inactive in the belief that golf is beyond their physical limitations. This program provides access to the game so that all of the above is achieved.

“Fore! Inclusive Golf Lessons” centers on a scenario in which individuals at three different levels of motor, sensory and cognitive functioning learn the rules and skills of the game side-by-side during small group lessons that seamlessly integrate the necessary accommodations and modifications to reduce issues around accessibility and negative social attitudes. These populations include: 1) children, teens and adults with developmental disabilities such as autism spectrum disorder, Down Syndrome, and general developmental delays, 2) children, teens and adults with physical disabilities including cerebral palsy, traumatic brain injuries and spina bifida and, 3) children, teens and adults who are typically-developing.

In this program, all ATC athletes will improve their social and emotional development by their participation in ATC sports events such as the ATC golf league; and the academic/sports summer camp through acceptance of athletes’ individualized ability. ATC volunteers, coaches and the community will be made aware of the unique abilities of our rising stars and their inclusion to society as equal members. Through each of the ATC sports functions, athletes, coaches and volunteers will acquire an increase of knowledge and physical ability through drills and practice and friendly competition.

This new campus wide initiative is designed with campus and community inclusion in mind. For the Therapeutic Golf with Marty program, his class will join the 100+ open enrollment Group X classes that are popular with the 36,000+ students on campus. To increase participation of people with disabilities, the class will actively be marketed to students through the Disabled Students Union and the Disabled Students Program Office. Community members will be marketed through the Cal Star Program which serves the fitness needs of community members with disabilities. Outreach will extend to partnering with the Berkeley Center for Independent Living, BORP (Bay Outreach Recreational Program), and the Ed Roberts Campus. The Golf Fore Veterans Program was created in partnership with the Cal Students Veteran Group which consists of disabled and non-disabled members. Both will be participating in the program. In time, the Golf Fore Veterans would like to expand participation to veterans in the local area.

Many individuals recovering from disabling conditions have achieved solid results through our core program, which uses golf as a rehabilitation and wellness tool. However, we recognize that this is just a first step in helping individuals reclaim their lives. Based on interviews with graduates of our Challenge Golf Program, many golfers recovering from a disabling condition have improved their health and skills to the point where they wish to resume playing on a regulation or public course. However, many fail to do so due to a lack of able-bodied partners who understand the special needs of golfers still recovering from disabilities or fear of playing "too slow" for a traditional course. This new program is a Challenge Golf mentoring league designed to meet the needs stated above.

The goal of this program is for the development and execution of an adaptive golf clinic for our program partners in the healthcare systems such as OhioHealth, Ohio State University Wexner Medical Center, Parkinson’s Association and VA Outpatient facility (Chalmers P. Wylie VA Ambulatory Care Center) all in Central Ohio. Our plan is for this clinic to "jumpstart" our late fall / winter programs through introductions of Fore Hope to new clients / medical staff regarding the therapeutic benefits of our programs and the overall education of our organization.

The pilot program, funded in part through this grant, would follow the Button Hole model. Students participating in Year 1 of the program (6-10 youth) would be scheduled for six classes, one a week for six weeks, during the summer break. Each class would be 90 minutes in length and would cover the rules, regulations, etiquette and skills related to golf using grant funded adaptive equipment. Students involved in the pilot program would have the opportunity to participate in Button Hole’s weekly, non-class events, including tournaments that are scheduled for every Monday and Wednesday in the summer. The competition is divided into flights, by age. This would expand the inclusive portion of our pilot program’s students’ golf and life experiences. In addition, Button Hole conducts an end of the year competition for all Button Hole Kids, culminating in the awarding of the Button Hole Cup. As with all of our students, students in the pilot program would be included in in and after-school programs conducted in the fall and spring. The course curriculum for the Button Hole program for beginners is attached, along with the test administered to achieve Button Hole Kid status.

Guppy Golf is set up to inherently and universally include participants, regardless of disability or ability, to assume equal roles as participants. Students with special needs and disabilities, through the use of the nature of the program’s simplified language, color coded set up mats, grips, and stations will facilitate success for all. By the very demographics and dispositions of the student’s young ages, the classes will be taught so that all participants will understand and be successful whether they have special needs, typical abilities or disabilities. Guppy golf clubs will be adapted, shortened, and color coded grips and stance mats will ensure successful set up so that all students can feel that they are thriving in learning to golf.

The program provides the tools and instruction needed for patients to participate in and reap the rehabilitative benefits of the game. This is done by offering 1 day learn to Golf Clinics around the state, providing patients who don’t have equipment with a starter set of clubs, offering up to $250 in scholarship funds for lessons helping the patient connect with a local golf instructor or community junior golf program for ongoing involvement, and annually providing a one day seminar called Tee Up for Teaching for golf instructors and allied health care professionals so they may learn more about working with golfers who have a disability, need adapted equipment as well as inclusion.

GAIN Adaptive and Inclusive Golf Camp.
The camp consists of both golf activities at our course and inclusion activities to different venues. In our previous camp we took the participants to a miniature golf and arcade and a local business where they assemble golf clubs. Our camp was designed so that the participant learns the game along with a friend, parent or sibling, so that when the camp is completed they can play together. We encourage our camp participants to join one of our mainstream classes. In addition, we encourage them to come out and play golf at our course after the camp by offering to provide an instructor to join them for a round of golf. This helps to further increase their level of comfort when playing the course. We have also provided free individual lessons for participants and their mentors.

This program seeks to integrate the students into society by allowing them to interact independently with golf course personnel and navigate the obstacles of getting range balls, asking for transportation, and other tasks related to playing the game that able-bodied people take for granted. We are always on hand if their early attempts at interaction fail, but we believe in a separation between facilitated learning and independent activity, while the facilitated learning is always on hand.

The proposed goal for this grant application is specific to assistance for golf course access, instruction and transportation. By using golf as a means of recreational therapy, golf provides our clients with the opportunity to enhance their overall quality of life. Fore Hope participants learn golf skills that parallel their social, emotional, cognitive and physical needs. Fore Hope's staff of golf professionals, recreation therapist and volunteers have improved the lives of hundreds throughout our twenty-two years of existence. Ultimately, Fore Hope participants are better prepared for community participation after becoming involved in our therapeutic golf program. With a talent for recreational therapy services, and the growing community need for recreation, Fore Hope believes there are many individuals we have yet to serve. Fore Hope continues to strive and reach each individual's own personal needs. Through Fore Hope's therapeutic process, we can help further engage one in his / her community while also enhancing each individual's overall quality of life.

The Adaptive Golf program at Walton Foundation exists to bring persons with physical challenges closer to independence and to a meaningful life with family, friends, and communities. Another main objective is to raise awareness of the benefit of sports and leisure programs for those with acquired disabilities like spinal cord injury, brain injury, stroke impairment, blindness and more. The program consists of Adaptive Golf Clinics, Adaptive Golf Player cards, The Adaptive Golf Demonstration, and the Adaptive Golf Challenge. These programs provide the opportunity for people with disabilities to either get back into the game of golf or to learn golf for the first time. These opportunities increase the quality of life for participants, and allow family members to be directly involved with their loved ones in a recreational setting.

This is the continuation of the program funded in 2010 (see above) The program is designed to replicate and enhance the success of the 2011 season. We expect that participants will not only learn the essentials of golf, but will also develop a deeper appreciation for the values of inclusion, self-respect, respect for others, sportsmanship and other positive life skills while developing patience, focus, discipline and self-confidence.
Penn State's Global Accessibility Initiative, the National Alliance for Accessible Golf and the Salute Military Golf Association have partnered to develop and deliver an Accessible Golf certificate program. The purpose of the program is to train golf professionals, and allied health professionals, on how to better include people with disabilities in golf instruction and play. The goal is to enhance opportunities for ALL people to play golf by teaching strategies for creating welcoming and inclusive environments, providing a working understanding of various disabilities as related to golf, introducing available adaptive golf equipment, and adaptive techniques for golf instruction. The core belief is that golf provides a therapeutic medium that improves the physical, cognitive, social and emotional aspects of participating individuals and that, through participation, possible secondary complications related to disability (e.g., social isolation, depression, substance abuse and suicide) can be minimized.

Our golfers share the course and the range with other golfers from the community. We also offer opportunities for unified golf in which individuals with developmental disabilities golf alongside staff and volunteers without disabilities.

Knox County Accessible Golf — Our golf program currently has opportunities for all age levels of play, from The First Tee program to our senior tournaments and leagues. Because of the lack of programs for the disabled, and the geography of our community, it has been difficult for people with disabilities to play our courses. Golfing FORE Autism. Golfing for Middle and High School Aged Students with Autism — The goal is to teach children with autism the joy of the game of golf. A game that can be played for a lifetime by anyone, with anyone, regardless of ability. A game where you are able to socialize, make friends and enjoy the outdoors. Specifically, we want the children to learn the fundamentals of golf, the golf swing, the rules of golf and golf etiquette so that they are able to grow into the game as they mature into adulthood. We want golf to be a part of their life to use as a recreational activity.
Deepwood Recreational Unified Golf Program — This program strives to achieve the following goals within the Unified Golf Program: 1) To provide access for individuals with disabilities to participate in Golf opportunities that they would not typically be afforded. 2) To promote sportsmanship, skill and recreational golf opportunities. 3) To develop skill levels and provide adaptations so that any person with a developmental disability can participate in recreational golf opportunities. Skills include mechanics of golf swings, balance and swing, use of adaptive golf techniques, and use of adaptive golf equipment.

In this program, all ATC athletes will improve their social and emotional development by their participation in ATC sports events such as the ATC golf league; and the academic/sports summer camp through acceptance of athletes' individualized ability. ATC volunteers, coaches and the community will be made aware of the unique abilities of our rising stars and their inclusion to society as equal members. Through each of the ATC sports functions, athletes, coaches and volunteers will acquire an increase of knowledge and physical ability through drills and practice and friendly competition.

The Goals of this program include: Increase participation of people with Down syndrome in the game of golf. Statement: Golf is a physically and mentally challenging sport that can be played on many levels, each of great benefit. Golf can be a lifelong activity, and can lead to opportunities that enable players to more fully participate in and experience life. Provide life skills education in a fun, safe learning environment. Statement: Participants will benefit from instruction by The First Tee Columbus (TFTC). Utilizing the Nine Core Values curriculum of The First Tee Life Skills Experience™, instructors and mentors teach honesty, integrity, sportsmanship, respect, confidence, responsibility, perseverance, courtesy, and judgment. These values represent some of the many inherently positive values connected with the game of golf. Through this curriculum, participants learn valuable lessons about the importance of maintaining a positive attitude; how to make decisions by thinking about the possible consequences and how to define and set goals from the golf course to everyday life. Provide a vehicle for meaningful inclusion activities to increase acceptance of people with Down syndrome.
